Every year, Dolce and the Center for Gender Equity co-host Raise Your Voice, an event that gathers performers of all kind from across campus in a celebration of the feminine. This year, we have invited groups who, by their nature, showcase the qualities of strong, impactful women. In doing so, together, we will explore the female identity and how to be a powerful woman in today's world.

Lehigh Dancin' offers classes in jazz and lyrical taught by professional choreographers and Lehigh students. Our members range from engineers to biochemistry and business majors, and all enjoy coming together to enjoy the art of dance. We welcome all dancers regardless of prior experience to foster a collaborative and supportive environment in which dancers can thrive and grow.

Yi Wang

Composed in 1991, this piece was adapted from one of the most famous Chinese folk songs, "Jasmine Flower", which dates back to the 18th century. The gentle, melancholic and vigorous tune depicts the gorgeous blossom of jasmine and shows admiration of the fragrant flower. Application of modern composition techniques in this piece endowed the traditional music with more dynamics and ingenuity.
